09/2022 – Current, Bologna, Italy

Post-doctoral researcher – University of Bologna

---

Post-doc researcher (assegnista di ricerca) at the Department of Statistical Sciences “Paolo Fortunati”, University of Bologna. The project is set on unveiling inequalities originating from geographical differences of the Italian national territories. Among the themes researched: social stratification, inequalities, family formation, internal migrations.

06/2022 – 09/2022 Parma, Italy

Junior research assistant – University of Parma

---

Junior researcher (borsista di ricerca) at the Department of Economics, University of Parma. The position is set in a departmental research project, focusing on the sociological dimension of immigrant entrepreneurship in Italy. In particular, the researcher focuses on how immigrant entrepreneurs and their presence in the national and regional territory impact on local social cohesion with autochthonous realities. Qualitative and quantitative social research methodologies are both applied.

01/2022 – Current, Bologna, Italy

Adjunct Professor – University of Bologna

---

Adjunct Professor (professoressa a contratto) of the 2021/2022 and 2022/2023 undergraduate course on Sociology of Asian Countries (Sociologia dei Paesi Asiatici), Department of Languages, Literatures and Modern Cultures, University of Bologna. The course content is constituted by two parts: firstly, it offers to students an introduction to general sociology, by presenting its main proponents and theories and its main analytical and methodological tools. Secondly, the course focuses on elements of the Chinese and Japanese societies, with a critical lens of the construction of orientalism and auto-orientalism.

09/2018 – Occasional collaboration, Venice, Italy

Collaboration – Fondazione Leone Moressa

Long-term occasional collaboration with Fondazione Leone Moressa, a think tank based in Venice which publishes the yearly National Report on the Economic Impact of Italian Immigration and collaborates to elaborate data and reports on Italian immigration with the most well-known Italian newspapers (IlSole24, La Repubblica, etc.).

Current collaboration includes:

- Report writing-up (including raw data elaboration) for the International Organization for Migration’s (IOM) publication on the Italian phenomenon of immigrant entrepreneurship (to be published in 2022).

- Collaboration on DOMINA’s (National Association of Domestic Entrepreneurial Families) periodical reports on the dynamics of home care assistance, special focus on the presence of migrant women in the caregiving sector of European countries. Extensive command of Excel as analytical tool for the reports’ descriptive elaboration and analysis on Istat and Inforcamere data (to be published in 2022).

Academic Tutor – University of Bologna

Academic tutor for the 2021/2022 and 2022/2023 undergraduate course on Sociology (general sociology), Department of Political and social sciences, University of Bologna. The role covers activities such as support to teaching activities, setting up exam questions, management of the online administration of the course, from exam enrollment to course activities coordination, to students' meetings.

06/2021 -10/2021 Verona, Italy

Collaboration - University of Verona

Short-term collaboration with the Melarete Project research team, funded by the Department of Human Sciences of the University of Verona. The collaboration focuses on the transcription and a first level of analysis of previously collected focus-group interviews. Melarete is the development of the project "educate to virtue": starting from a philosophical reflection on ethics, according to classical and contemporary philosophers, the researchers designed an educative path on virtues, aimed at involving children in an "ethical thinking", intended as a reflection on virtuous actions recognized in their lived experience.
