

Irma Eloff is the Head of the Department of Educational Psychology at the University of Pretoria. She has received multiple awards for her research in Educational Psychology, with specific focuses in asset-based approaches, early intervention, inclusive education and HIV/AIDS.

Irma is an NRF-rated researcher and a registered psychologist. She serves on the editorial boards of the Australian Journal of Educational & Developmental Psychology and the Journal of Disability Policy Studies. She has co-authored the book, Life skills & Assets, has published numerous articles, several chapters in books. She regularly presents papers at national and international conferences and has been a visiting Associate Professor in the Department of Psychology, Yale University. At UP she supervises postgraduate research projects and teaches postgraduate students in Educational Psychology.